GLADIOLUS

Our bulbs are larger than usual this year. They are very easily grown. Plant when ground gets settled, give good cultivation. Plant large bulbs 3 or 4 inches deep; small bulbs 2 & 3 inches; 6 inches apart in double rows so they will support each other. Gladiolus when in bloom present a very nice appearance and flowers in a vase will last from one to two weeks if water is changed often. All the Gladiolus that I offer for sale (excepting Mrs. Francis King) were grown from seed. I began nine years ago and have been selecting the best colors from those each year and discarding the poorer and weaker flowers.

Take up bulbs before freezing weather and put them in a dry place where they will not freeze.

Senator Dunlap. Resembles Warfield, ripening about the same time.

Wm. Belt. Large, very fine flavor, prolific, hold their size well.

Brandywine. Late, very large, good canning variety, hold their size well.

Warfield is a pistillate variety and requires a staminate variety planted near them. The other varieties I offer are staminate.

I would recommend setting three or four varieties so as to have a succession for canning or table use. Our plants are large and well rooted and will make good growth if given proper care.

Third—Will remain in ground longer.

Fourth—Will enrich the soil more than clover will.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Potatoes and grain seeds shipped by freight or express at expense of purchaser.

If plants or garden seeds are ordered same time as potatoes or seed grains, they can be supplied with them to save freight. If several neighbors would club together in ordering, I would label each properly, and they could be shipped to one party who could distribute to the ones ordering and thus save charges.

If any one wishes any advice on planting or growing crops that I can give, and will enclose stamp, I will answer.

Burlap sacks free for potatoes and oats, cotton sacks for grass seeds and corn, 25c extra.

Seven 5c pkgs. of seeds, purchaser's choice 25c.

Seeds by mail, for first pound, 8c; additional pound, 1c each; 1 pint 8c; additional pint, each 1c more; 1 quart 10c, additional quart 2c each for postage and packing. Packing often costs more than postage.

Cash to accompany all orders from unknown parties. Send orders early for potatoes and plants and orders will be booked and shipped when weather conditions permit.

Give plain shipping directions; amounts of $1.00 or less can be sent in 2c stamps, larger amounts can be sent in personal checks or money orders.

Any one receiving more than one list can give to friends. Most of these seeds are of my own growing. All seeds and plants are guaranteed to be as represented to the amount of purchase price.
